Dear Mr. Mrs. Ms.,

I'm writing to express my interest on you getting to know more about me. If you are seeking someone who can accurately portray a wide range of male roles from early thirties to late forties, search no further. With over fifteen years' experience as an actor, I thoroughly research and prepare for roles, learn my lines quickly and willingly incorporate feedback. I have embraced diverse roles and experiences throughout my career, consistently striving to exceed expectations and leave a lasting impact.

I have excellent communication skills and am able to effectively convey a character's emotions. I am also able to take direction well and am always willing to take on new challenges. I am also extremely dedicated and have a great work ethic.

I continue to nurture my passion by taking classes and continuing performing. I have developed a strong understanding of the industry and understand what it takes to be a successful actor. One of the crucial aspects that makes someone an award-winning actor and an unbeatable asset is their ability to perform various roles yet having one uniqueness that is exclusive to them, and if you could spend some of your valuable time looking through the material that I have attached along, you will understand that I am an actor with that potential.

Please find my resume attached. References are available upon request.

Thank you for taking the time to read my application. I look forward to hearing from you whenever convenient.

Sincerely,
Vincent Santamaria
